DOG BITES SMALL BOY

Knocked down and bitten over the eye and on the arm by the ordinarily playful dog owned by John B. Eastman on Monday morning, Edward Engstrom, seven-year-old son of Gustaf Engstrom, is now recovering from his wounds without any apparent serious effects.

The youngster and his father were delivering milk to a house next door to the Eastman home, and as the boy was returning to the pavement he crossed the Eastman lawn where the dog was standing. As he had done before, the boy petted the dog a moment, but suddenly the dog, either in a moment of play or anger, snapped at the boy's arm, and leaped upon him bearing the boy to the ground and then biting the child over the eye.

The father chased the dog, and carried his son to the office of Dr. Hamilton, where the wounds were cauterized. The gashes have now healed somewhat and it is thought that the child will suffer only a slight scars over the eye.

Immediately upon hearing what had happened, Mr. Eastman took the dog out of town and had him shot. He is going to have its head sent to Harrisburg for an examination to determine if there was a possibility of rabies.

PROF. C. W. LILLIBRIDGE ELECTED FOURTH TIME

Elected County Superintendent of Schools for the fourth term of four years each, Prof. C. W. Lillibridge, of this place, sets a record for satisfactory service in his office and establishes a precedent of being elected to the post for four terms—the first superintendent to be so honored by the county school directors.

O. E. Gutafson, of Wetmore town ship made the nomination of Prof. Lillibridge, and it was immediately seconded. Forty-three directors attended the election. There were no other applicants for the post.

In making his nomination, Mr. Gustafson told his fellow directors of Prof. Lillibridge's superior qualifications for county superintendent and of the strides that McKean County Schools had made forward during his previous terms. Also of the professor's common sense tactics that had often won out in trying school problems.

The County Superintendent undoubtedly has been able to get the most desired results from the county schools. He is popular with the teachers and principals who by a constant co-operation have lent themselves to the best of educational administration. Prof. Lillibridge makes his stand clear in the matter of State school affairs, and he has practised fairness in every respect among his teachers without regard to race or religion.

For State committeeman, Sylvester Rich, Bradford.

250 PRESENT AT H. S. CLUB

Supporting members and friends of the new High School Boys Club to the number of about 250 thronged the new organization's quarters in the Backus building, opposite the Court house, last Friday night when the rooms were formally opened with appropriate ceremony.

The entertainment for the evening included the following:

Invocation by Rev. Arthur Gregson; address of welcome to the visitors by Kenton Abbey, president of the club; address by Judge Bouton, in behalf of the Conopus Club; piano solo, Howard Strong; Reading by Secretary Mansell, of the Bradford Y. M. C. A.; Selections by Travelers Club Sextette; Address by J. H. Brewer of State Y. M. C. A.; refreshments by the ladies of the W. C. T. U., who donated cake, and ice cream donated by A. Miller was served along with coffee.

The visitors were much impressed by the splendid arrangement of the boy's rooms, and could not but approve of the club upon seeing the healthy purpose of each one to be devoted to sports, study, reading and the like.

It was decided by the rule committee that the club rooms are to be open each Tuesday, Thursday, Friday, and Saturday from 7.30 to 10, and that on each night two reputable citizens are to supervise the activities of the members.

The following have been asked to serve in the capacity of supervisors of the club on various nights: Profs. Bright and Brownell, C. L. Lorah, H. Hockenberry, J. L. Morrison, Webb Hopper, Albert Johnson, Frank Fay, J. A. Nellis, A. H. Benes, and Rev. Gregson.

Chess and checkers and indoor quoits will be among the games, with the possibilities of pool, on installation of a table. Mr. Lorah has already begun wrestling instructions.

O. E. GUSTAFSON FOR LEGISLATURE VISITS TOWN.

Expounding a platform of "political economy" and an equalization of teachers' salaries, Mr. O. E. Gustafson, of Wetmore Township, was in town Tuesday to attend the election of county superintendent of schools, and also to meet local voters to further his Republican candidacy for Legislature in the coming primaries.

Mr. Gustafson stated that as both the employer and the laborer were now retrenching on every hand, he thinks it is time for a thorough program of political retrenchment; that many fat jobs were at present filled by men drawing twice as much as they are worth, or at least twice as much as others, perhaps more capable, would be glad to accept such positions.

The candidate is a leading school director of Wetmore township, and both his friends and those not in his favor say that he is much alive along school lines. He said that he was in favor of teachers' salary equalization by the elimination of the present four class district ratings; also that many of the school problems of each locality might best be handled by the directors in touch with them than by rulings from Harrisburg.

COMMUNITY SINGING HELD HERE ON MAY 2

A notable celebration of Pennsylvania Music Week in Smethport is to be held on May 2, when the entire town and persons from neighboring places will join in a monster community singing and musical event on the Courthouse lawn.

Pennsylvania Music Week extends from April 30 to May 6 by order of Governor Sproul.

The choirs of all the local churches, the Travelers Club Sextette, the Smethport Band, children of the High School and the general public will indulge in musical numbers to make up an elaborate program that is now being planned by the committee in charge of the celebration.

Dr. H. L. McCoy will lead the community singing, and Sidney Burdick will be at the piano throughout. Songs old and some new will make up the major portion of the program. No one will be unfamiliar with the songs for the general choruses, and everyone will sing unrestrainedly. Everyone thinks secretly that he or she has a wonderful voice, so here is a chance to indulge with out fear of criticism from others.

The committee in charge of the celebration are Mrs. Scott Redfield, chairman, Mrs. H. H. Redfield, Mrs. Lincoln Green, Mrs. Mary Bosworth Mrs. Fred Hungiville, Mrs. John Cather, Mrs. W. E. Van Dyke.

The various special numbers on the program will require much rehearsing, and those in charge will have the various singing bodies in their care. The church choirs, fresh from their Easter practising, should be in excellent voice on the night of the celebration, and this body of singers will undoubtedly be one of the features of the evening.

Letters from Governor Sproul and Superintendent of Public Instruction Finegan exhorting a widespread celebration of music week are as follows:

In all ages and among all peoples, music has been a vital element in human life. The history of a nation is written in its songs. In times of national rejoicing music is the natural medium of expression; in days of peril and sorrow music brings courage and comfort when speech fails. We will not soon forget the part which music played in the trying days of the Great War. Its uplifting and unifying influence was a revelation. The nation realized as never before the wonderful power of music; its value as a community asset was impressively demonstrated in many ways.

In order that this widespread interest and participation in community music may be kept alive and developed, the people of the Commonwealth are urged to join in celebrating the week of April 30 as Pennsylvania Music Week to the end that there shall be more and better music in the homes and churches; that schools, industries and business houses, civic, fraternal patriotic and welfare organizations shall join in singing, playing and listening to music.

Wm. C. Sproul, Gov.

The refining and uplifting influence of music and the important part which it plays in home, school, church, and civic life justify the setting apart of one week in the year as Music Week.

May I appeal to every superintendent and teacher, every university, college and normal school, every high and elementary school, every industry and business institution, and every church and home in Pennsylvania, to take some active part in this inspiring movement. Beginning with special services in the churches on Sunday April 30, let our hills and valleys ring with inspiring music that shall be heard and enjoyed by all the people. So doing Pennsylvania shall go singing and playing on its way upward along the path of culture and refinement.

Thos E. Finegan,
Supt. of Public Instruction.

EASTER IN CHURCHES

The beautiful feast of Easter is next Sunday.

Arising out of the ashes of penance after six weeks of Lenten denial, church-goers will arise to the joyous occasion commemorating the glorious resurrection of Christ.

Solemn services are going on in all the local churches in keeping with Holy Week. Tomorrow—Good Friday—is the universal day of sorrow and prayer in the entire Christian World.

Special services will be held in all the local congregations on Easter Sunday, with elaborate musical programs and sermons appropriate to the feast.

METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH

Good Friday. Evening Worship, at 7:30.

Easter Sunday: Holy Communion, 9:30; Morning Worship, 10:30 At this service the choir will render special Easter music. Baptism at 11:30. Sunday School, 11:45; Junior League, 3:00; Evening Worship, 7:30.

ST. ELIZABETH'S CHURCH.

Good Friday—Devotions to Cross all day; Way of the Cross at 7:30 o'clock in the evening.

Story of the Cross at 4:00 p. m. in addition to Morning and Evening Prayer.

GOLF COURSE OPEN BY JULY FIRST.

With about a week or two of work still to be done on the links of the Smethport Country Club west of town, local golf enthusiasts are said to be already knocking the tiny pellets about in the privacy of their yards and even indoors just to practise up a bit.

The golf bug has got them, at any rate.

The course will not be ready to play upon until about July 1. This delay is caused by allowing the course to thoroughly harden and the sudding to properly set.

There is little doubt, however, that there will be a large turn out of players and would-be ones when the course is officially opened.

CHURCH FAIR.

At St. Luke's Parish House the Women's auxiliary, third division, will have a fair Tuesday evening April 18th, commencing at 7:30 p. m. Fancy work, lingerie, candy, grab bags, ice cream and cake are some of the attractions for the evening. adv. 15-1t.

MISS EMILY BROWN, BETULA SUCCESS IN SCHOOL PLAY.

In her portrayal of the "Mad Hatter" in an "Alice In Wonderland" theatrical at the Lock Haven State Normal School last week, Miss Emily Brown, of Betula, the daughter of Mrs. Carrie Brown scored a decided hit with one of the largest audiences that has attended the school play in twenty years.

Miss Brown is a member of the junior class, and has an aptness for the stage which made the usually difficult role and easy one for her. She is now spending some time at home on a vacation.

Miss Charlton Locke, teacher of oral expression at the school, deserves a great amount of credit for the success of Miss Brown and the other players, she having coached them in their characters, and supervised the costuming and scenic and lighting arrangement.

MAY REPAIR FALLEN PLANE

Parker Cramer, of this place, is expected to put the Amundsen plane into condition, as he is the only man acquainted with the work in this section, and the only one who has a hangar and the tools to do so.

The plane is at Clarion, awaiting the orders of the owners to have it repaired, although of course it will not accompany the explorer on his dash to the pole. Mr. Cramer is at present acting as deputy sheriff protecting a coal mine near Clarion, but expects to return to Clarion if the repair job comes to him.

"Bill" Cramer, the local high school boy who is an aviator and parachute jumper, of note stated yesterday that he may go to Clarion to assist his brother, Parker, in making the repairs.

The machine is an all-metal and fabricless type, fitted to carry five passengers. Three of the Amundsen party are at Clarion awaiting orders, and have been met by Parker Cramer.

Clarion, Pa., April 11.—The airplane in which Capt. Raold Amundsen, discoverer of the South Pole, left New York yesterday morning on a cross-country flight to Seattle, was wrecked yesterday afternoon at Minda, a small village four miles east of here. While the explorer and his four companions were badly bruised in the wreck, none of them were seriously hurt.

According to Captain Amundsen, the motor became overheated when they were flying about 6,000 feet above the earth. They were forced to descend, the plane turning completely over after it landed in a field.

The party consisted of Captain Amundsen, Lieutenant Oscar Omdel, of the Norwegian navy, Harris Giardo, of New York, R. Lewis, civilian pilot and, Ernest Ruhl, mechanician. They left this morning for Cleveland by train; which was to have been the first stop in their cross-continent flight. Another machine will replace the damaged one. None of the aviators were hurt.

BOTTLE PLANT BOOM STARTS

Confirmation from W. J. Johnson, of Bryan, O. that he will accept the managership of the bottle factory here if the project is accomplished, is the signal for a tremendous effort on the part of those behind the move to secure guarantees from local citizens to raise a sum of approximately $25,000 for the equipment and working capital for the proposed plant.

This work of securing funds, or at least promises of such, will be begun during the coming week as Sanford L. Fry, chairman of the committee appointed to promote the plan has stated that although he and his fellow workers wish to secure more definite information in the market for bottles such as will be made at the local plant, he desires to sound Smethport business men and other citizens on the possibility of financial help from them.

Mr. Johnson was the manager of the old bottle factory previous to its burning, and under his able guidance it was a business success. He is considered just the man for the local plant, and much of the possibility of the building of the proposed plant had rested upon his decision of accepting the managership.

As nearly 90 persons would comprise the force employed at the factory, the addition to Smethport's population and resultant prosperity to be reaped by the business men, there will be but little danger, according to Mr. Fry, of not being able to get the money. The erection of the plant will cost about $15,000, and the amount of necessary working capital at the start is to be $10,000.

The materials on the site will be used to best advantage. There is much good brick that can be put to use, and other things of like value to the company which will take it over.

60 QUEEN ESTHER LODGE MEMBERS VISIT HERE.

Sixty members of the Queen Esther Lodge of Rebekahs of Bradford came to Smethport last night and put on degree work in the I. O. O. F. hall.

Miss Anna Hiley, district deputy president was in charge of the installation of officers of the local body, the Ideal Rebekah Lodge.

The following were installed:

Mrs. Jennie Chase, N. G.; Mrs. Ethel Cunningham, Warden; Mrs. George Ross, Conductor; Mrs. Wayde Burdick, Chaplain; Mrs. Pearl Whalen, R. S. N. G.; Miss Eva Hoffman, L. S. N. G.; Mrs. J. J. Johnston, R. S. V. G.; Mrs. John Digel, L. S. V. G.; John Digel, Inside Guardian; Anthony Anderson, Outside Guardian. Altar Supporters, Mrs. McAhon and Mrs. Peterson.

"SHIFTERS" NOT ALLOWED IN BRADFORD SCHOOLS.

Bradford, April 10.—The Shifters movement will not be tolerated in the Bradford public schools, is the verdict of the school authorities. Any student who has already been initiated will not be allowed to wear the Shifters emblem, a paper clip, nor show any signs whatever concerning the organization while in school.

A special assembly was called at the high school yesterday by Principal Schilling, who stated emphatically that no such nousense would be allowed and those wearing the emblems should at once remove them. Two o tthe pupils were disinclined to carry out the orders and the principal was obliged to thoroughly discipline them, after which they thought better of the matter.

HERMAN NORTH, FORMER BRADFORD MAYOR, DEAD.

Bradford, April 10.—Herman H. North, former Mayor, former postmaster and former member of the State Legislature, died on the stroke of midnight last night following an illness that had been acute for one week.

Although Mr. North's death had been anticipated, actual dissolution came as a rude and painful shock to those who had stood watch at his bedside for days hoping against hope that the tragedy of final separation might be averted, and the news of his passing will be received with sincere regret throughout this section where he was so well known and where he was recognized as a citizen of much ability and worth.

Mr. North had not been in robust health for some time past and one week ago he sustained a paralytic stroke which the beginning of the end. It was at first believed he might rally but this hope proved vain. Though he made a gallant and uncomplaining fight against the inevitable his weakened constitution was unable to withstand the shock and he sank steadily until the final summons came at the close of a peaceful Sabbath day.

Mr. North was one of the best known men in McKean county and his friends were legion. His activities as public office holder, attorney and legislative member brought him into contact with the great mass of people in this section and his uniform courtesy, gentle humor and dignified bearing endeared him to those privileged to know him most intimately. He was a striking figure among men and a worker whose usefulness embraced a wide field of endeavor.

HOLDS "MONSTER" FOR THEFT; MAY DEPORT HIM.

Washington, April 8.—Declaring he had received charges that American men, women and children had been "butchered" in Siberia by General Semenoff, Chairman Borah of the Senate Labor Committee announced he would endeavor to bring about deportation of the anti-Bolshevik leader now under bail in New York after arrest in connection with a civil suit.

New York, April 8.—General Gregorie Semenoff, Chieftain, today was called before attorneys for the receiver of the Youroveta Home and Foreign Trading company for examination on charges that he pilfered $478,678 of their goods at Chita, trans-Baikalia, in 1919.

The Youroveta company, which claims that it obtained judgment against Semenoff in the courts of Harbin, Manchuria for the value of the goods, caused his arrest when he arrived here Thursday night from Washington.

Pending the settlement of the company's claims, General Semenoff was released in $25,444 bail furnished when his wife parted with a valuable necklace as security.

Frankfort, Ky., April 8.—Charging that General Gregorie Semenoff rested Thursday night in New York, "is a cowardly and unscrupulous enemy of America," and that as a murderer and robber he is "the greatest monster of all times, Colonel Charles H. Morrow, brother of Governor Morrow, has wired Secretary Hughes a summary of the anti-Bolshevik leader's alleged record in Siberia.

OPENED WORLD OF ANCIENTS

Frenchman in Year 1822 Succeeded in Deciphering Hieroglyphics on Egyptian Monuments.

As there is always a centennial in prospect, we are now about to reach that of Champollion's deciphering of Egyptian writing. The announcement of this discovery was, in fact, made in 1822.

Champollion had spent more than twenty years trying to plumb the secrets of hieroglyphics. He finally found it with the discovery of an inscription in Greek carved in hieroglyphic characters. The word that appeared most often in Greek was the name of Ptolemy, to whom the stone had been raised. Champollion, therefore, searched for the hieroglyphics which corresponded with this word. What signs had the value of "P" and "t" and "o"? In addition to superhuman patience a genius for divination was called for.

First light came from the letter "l" by comparison with certain signs appearing on a monument to Cleopatra. But this was only one step forward, as Egyptian writing was composed of alphabetical characters, syllabic signs and ideographic as well as determinative symbols.

Thus it is easy to imagine the time required before Champollion opened the world of the ancients to the researches of science—a world which is still more or less of an enigma to the student.—From Le Petit Parisien.

SPRING REUNION OF OLEAN SCOTTISH RITE BODIES

Olean April 8.—The annual spring reunion of the Olean Scottish Rite bodies of the Ancient Accepted Scottish Rite of Freemasonry was held Monday and Tuesday, April 10 to 11, in Masonic Temple. These bodies include the Olean Chapter of Rose Croix, Olean Council Princes of Jerusalem, and Olean Lodge of Perfection.

The reunion is always a big event and this year delegations were expected from Arcade, Bolivar, Franklinville, Machias, Portville, Salamanca and other towns and cities. A representative of the Buffalo Consistory was present.

It is estimated that 100 candidates will be raised to the various degrees, the highest within the jurisdiction of the local bodies being the Rose Croix, or 18th degree.

After reaching this chapter, candidates are prepared for the consistory degree which is exemplified at Buffalo.

During the two days, business sessions were also held by the bodies.

Following the business session at 1 o'clock Monday afternoon activities were confined to meetings of the Lodge of Perfection, including initiation. On Tuesday afternoon exemplification of the degrees of the Council Princes of Jerusalem took place. Tuesday night the Rose Croix degree was conferred.

Dinners were served in the Masonic dinning room Monday and Tuesday nights at 6 o'clock.

ASSOCIATION HOPES WAKE MT. JEWETT FROM LETHARGY

Mt. Jewett, April 6.—The committee appointed last week to form plans for a future mass meeting of the citizens of Mt. Jewett, gathered at the Thompson & Co. office last evening, and it proved a very interesting meeting, says the Mt. Jewett Echo.

These able men were very enthused, and are of the opinion that a bright future awaits the community if the citizens get together and cooperate with the plans in view.

The first object of the meeting was to select a name, and after several good suggestions, the title of the Mt. Jewett's Development Association was definitely selected.

The fee for joining the organization was placed at $1.00 a year.

The following nominations for a set of officers were made:

President, John W. Reynolds, 1st Vice-President, A. J. Quist, 2nd Vice President, R. H. Holmes, 3rd Vice-President, F. E. William, 4th Vice-President, S. Phillips, Treasurer, A. E. Conn, Secretary, H. K. Lundberg.

Tuesday evening April 25 was selected as the date for the next meeting of the citizens to be held in the I. O. O. F. hall.

PORT ALLEGANY RAISES ITS SCHOOL TEACHERS SALARIES

Port Allegany, April 6. — At a meeting of the Port Allegany School board last week, a new schedule of salaries was decided upon which will give the teachers a gradual advance in pay for each year they stay until the maximum salary is reached. Under this plan the maximum salary of high school teachers is $120 per month, and of grade teachers $140 per month. The plan involves an increase of $5.00 per month in salaries for each additional year and will eliminate any dissatisfaction there has been in the ranks of the older teachers as the younger and less experienced teachers came in and drew the same pay as themselves. The new plan will also constitute a reward for faithful and continuous service. The resolution was adopted to satisfy certain recent requests made by the teachers, it is said.

SHINGLEHOUSE GIRL IS CHOSEN A MISSIONARY

New York, April 7.—Ten young women who have been training as medical, evangelical and educational missionaries, have been appointed to the service of the Women's American Baptist Foreign Mission society, and will sail soon for the foreign lands. Miss Mayhelle Mae McVeigh, candidate secretary of the society announced yesterday.

PER CAPITA TAX FOR SCHOOLS

Bradford April 8.—The Board of Public School Directors last evening voted to levy a per capita tax of $3 to meet expected additional expenses in the school year of 1922 1923. This tax will be levied upon all men and women, over 21 years of age, living in the city of Bradford.

The board decided that the per capita tax would be a more equitable method of raising the necessary revenue than by an increase in millage, inasmuch as all residents of the city, and not only the property owners, benefit by the school system. Accordingly it was voted to leave the millage at its present figure, 25 mills.

ELDRED MAY DEVELOP ALLEGANY WATERWAY

Eldred, April 6.—One of the questions being discussed here at present is that concerning the improvement of the waterway of the Allegany river. Annually this subject is discussed, and although nothing has resulted from these discussions it is believed that an organization will be eventually perfected, the object of which will be to remove the spiles which were at one time so necessary to a now decadent industry, and other flood trash from the river, so that the stream will be navigable for small craft.

One of the chief factors to which the valley of Eldred owes its picturesque beauty is the Allegany river. Spring is the season of the year when the scenic beauty of the stream appears to best advantage and many of the inhabitants during these warm days leisurely make their way down the river. Those who are sentimental delight to stand and gaze upon the reflection of the sing on the bridge in the moonlight trees that line the shore and listen to the water as it ripples over the stones.

PORT ALLEGANY PROMISES BIG CONVENTION WEEK

Port Allegany, April 6.—The members of Frank Burt Post, No 225, American Legion, are making preparations for their huge convention, which they will hold here on July 2, 3, 4, and 5. The reports of the chairman of the arrangement committee at the meeting in the city building on Tuesday evening, indicated that the business men and the townspeople are standing firmly back of the American Legion, and that the convention is to be an imposing succes.

J. P. O'Connor chairman of the publicity committe, reports that about 20,000 envelopes advertising the convention had already been sold to the business men here, and that that number was sure to be doubled within a few weeks. Then Chairman "Bill" Hanlon of the sporting committee reported excellent progress toward arranging for the championship ball games.

Port Allegany, in fact, will endeavor to put on a convention that will outshine all previous celebrations of the sort that have taken place in the county.

POLITICAL ANNOUNCEMENT.
For Congress
WILLIAM IRVIN SWOOPE,
of Clearfield, Pa.,
Subject to the decision of the Republican voters of the Twenty-third Congressional District, including Cameron, Clearfield, Center and McKean Counties, at the Spring Primaries, May 16th, 1922.

Four weeks from next Tuesday the Republican voters of this Congressional District will decide at the Spring Primary between William I Swoope, of Clearfield and Evan J. Jones, of Bradford for their Congressional nominee.

Evan J. Jones is serving his second term as Congressman. He has made a splendid record. He has been on the job in Washington. Throughout the district there seems to be satisfaction regarding the manner in which Mr. Jones has performed his duties.

The only issue in the present campaign is the one raised by Mr. Swoope that it is his turn. He claims that it has been an unwritten law of this Congressional District for the past forty years that no man shall serve for more than two terms. In other words it shall be passed around as an honor to the faithful.

Ex-Speaker, Champ Clark once said: "No man should be elected to the House simply to gratify his ambition. All members should be elected for the good of the country.

"A man has to learn to be a Representative just as he must learn to be a blacksmith, a carpenter, a farmer, an engineer, a lawyer, or a doctor.

"Poeta nascitur non fit"—a poet is born, not made—says Horace; but Congressman—that is, useful and influential Congressman, are made largely by experience and practice.

"It is an unwise performance for any district to change Representatives at short intervals. A new Congressman must begin at the foot of the Class and spell up."

The Miner believes, that if the rotation system is an established rule of the now 23rd Congressional District it is high time to brake the rule. The majority vote for Jones should be so big that never again a Republican would ask the nomination for Congress on the grounds, "he has had it two terms, now give it to me."

Is the whole world out of step with you? Everyone but yourself marching out of time?

If so, then you'll be terribly lonesome, as perfect persons usually are. If you think that everyone else is wrong in your egotistical soul, there is something wrong with you, and not the other fellows. So few of us are perfect that those who are are very conspicuous, to say the least. They stand out like "sore thumbs" of civilization. Some call them "sore heads," which about expresses it.

In case you've gotten to that stage where you say to yourself that you are absolutely perfect, then you'd better see a doctor, because there's something wrong with you, somewhere.

Looking about you, is it possible that everyone is sinful, neglectful, imperfect in your sight? Are they all on the downward path?

If they are, don't try to cure them, and try to get the crowd into step with you, but you might as well go to the devil with the gang at least for a while. It will have a humanizing effect upon you, and it may show you a thing or two about your own poor soul.

In New York the authorities are holding in captivity a "monster" which is synonomous for the Cossack that he is. Colonel Seminoff is his name and he is charged by a foreign trading company of pilfering a large sum of money by his foul dealings.

Seminoff is a leader of those murderous ghouls whose very name brings a gasp of fear to the Russian people, and who have terrorized by their barbarities that country for years. Like the beast Attila, they boast that grass cannot grow where the hoofs of their steeds have struck.

It is true. The Cossack belong to the dark ages from whence Attila sprung. They are a remnant of his breed. Russia has cast off its Emperor, and is looking toward liberty—though we fear it will never come through Lenine and Trotsky—by doing away with the oppression that once was its lot. The Cossack are of the old institutions of the country. They should be abolished.

Why?

The charges made against Seminoff by Americans who say they know him are sufficient answer. He is pictured as a monster, his accusers using that very word.

And we can readily believe he is if facial expressions can be regarded as a mirror to his inner being.

He wears a moustache of the type affected by the former Kaiser. It accentuates the cruelty of his mouth, and an obcese countenance and pig-gish eyes complete the picture of this devil who would dare blight the grass of this free soil by the touch of his cloven toff.

He is a monster, if he is a Cossack. Their expeditions of violence and ravage are as widely known as they are infamous.

One cannot but hope that this Seminoff will soon be deported, and he will if the action of the Senate committee follows out the wish of American citizens. Thus we would be ridden of a dragon who slavering jaws reek befouled of rotting blood and flesh of women and children he has sacrificed on the pyre of his flaming passions and blood-lust.

SILVIA DREAMS

By AGNES GRAHAM BROGAN

Copyright, 1922, Western Newspaper Union.

The violin stood in a corner of the shed where shabby sweaters and faded suits of men who worked, hung near by. This outer kitchen was a place where Silvia pared potatoes in summer time—and dreamed her dreams.

Silvia was but a child, stored in her quiet head were wise philosophies and happy beliefs. These beliefs she intoned by faith and effort to bring true. But the summer boarders who flocked yearly to Mrs. Huskins' cheery home were unaware of Silvia's wisdom; her dreams had long been a source of general amusement. Mrs. Huskins, good natured and indulgent loved to enlarge upon Silvia's visions.

"She sure is an odd piece," Mrs. Huskins would say, "and has been, ever since I took her out of the orphanage, six years ago. She was fourteen then, and land knows why I fancied that she'd be a help to me, but I did. And Silvia is a great help with all her notions; that's the strange part. They called her Ann, there, for want of a true name, but as soon as Miss Ann comes here she looks at me decidedly out of her big black eyes and says: 'From now on, Mrs. Huskins, I am Silvia.' I always did want a pretty name and I guess I've as good a right to choose it as the asylum. Silvia is the kind of name my mother would have chosen."

"Which," asked a boarder, "did the child know of her mother?" "Nothing," Mrs. Huskins replied, "except what they told us at the institution. Silvia had been rescued when a baby from a deserted tenement room, where her young dead father lay with his cold hand on her tiny warm body. Silvia's mother had died in the same room at the child's birth. The two young people had come there just before, and no one knew a thing about them—except, that the man played a violin.

"Then," asked a sympathetic young woman, "that is her father's violin, which Silvia keeps in the shed?"

"Bless you no!" laughed Mrs. Haskins, "her father's violin was taken for debt. The one Silvia has, was a premium offered by a grocery concern."

"Do you think," asked the interested young woman, "that Silvia would play for us?" After the dinner dishes are out of the way, I mean?" "I am sure," responded the smiling hostess, "that she would not. Silvia goes far into the wood to play her music."

"She is then a queer little thing," agreed the guest.

Tears filled the elder woman's eyes. "And a dear little thing, too," she said.

Silvia slipped down from the stool where she had sat polishing kitchen tin, in a bent a farm worker's hanging green sweater, she drew her violin; and far in the wood where shadows were deepest, she raised it lovingly to her chin.

A man in a cabin flung his book quickly aside, and hastening through the doorway came noiselessly toward the player. Close to her he halted, his eyes filled with wonder; breathlessly he listened. And then, as the last bird note echoed and echoed still again softly across the strings of Silvia's violin, the man faced her. She gazed startled. "I thought no one was near," she reproved him. "Are you so selfish with your music?" he asked.

The dark eyes were suddenly alight. "Is it then, music?" she asked eagerly; "real—music? And do you understand?"

The man sat down beside her. "I understand music so well," he replied, "that I am out here in the woods nursing the disappointment of failure. For you see—I realize that all the skill I have will not compensate for lack of—genius. Your music is genius."

Silvia looked down at him sorrowfully.

"Without skill," she said.

"See here," asked the man sharply, "who are you, where do you come from? I have kept hidden in my shack for days, fearing that my presence might startle you away; yet your playing played upon my heart strings because it is such as I had hoped to create. Tell me—about yourself?"

So Silvia told him. He listened as others had not listened to her dreaming; understanding, believing.

"You are right," he said at last, "your father has bequeathed his gift to you. What are you going to do with it?"

"This," cried Silvia and rose to her feet.

"This is the song that my father would have played when death called him."

Over the tree tops the enchanted melody rippled. Against the girl's round chin the violin sang wondrously of life, of joy, of sorrow. And when the song finished the man leaned tensely forward.

"You," he said, "must take that money which I intended to spend in study; you shall fulfill my—ambition."

And when later, a great ship started upon its voyage across the waters, little Silvia stood high on the deck waving her good-byes. She smiled cheerily into the rosy face of Mrs. Huskins, and then turned; that her last farewell might be to the man who watched her intently from shore. And into the eyes of Silvia flamed a sudden new dream. A dream of love come, when both her purpose and this man's hope for her should be realized. And Silvia, has the faith of her dreaming.

Re...ember that Story of Mark Twain's

—where he tells about the boat having to stop every time its whistle blew because there wasn't enough steam left to run the engine?

To our way of thinking there is a big moral in that story, which can be applied to our every day lives. Thousands of fine people—generous and open-handed folks—in good health, with good positions, on fire with the joy of living, carefree and strangers to trouble, are using up too much of their money in blowing the whistle of "high living," and neglecting to store up a reserve to "buck the current" when the tide runs against them. All of us can be sure of one thing—trouble will come—in some way or another. How much better it is to have a reserve fund in the shape of a Savings Account, ready to meet the emergency, than it is to have financial worries heaping upon a mind already distressed with other troubles.

Get that account started with us.

COMMERCIAL AIRPLANES IN MID-AIR COLLISION

Paris, April 7.—Six persons lost their lives today when airplanes on the London-Paris aerial express collided over the village of Thiculloy, 70 miles north of Paris, and crashed to earth in an unprecendented accident.

The entire personnel of the machines were killed. A New Yorker and his wife on their way home were among the dead.

The crash is said to be the first of its kind on any commercial air route. The British was making its first trip under the new management.

GOOD ROADS ASSOCIATION MEETS NEXT MONDAY

Port Allegany, April 6.—J. A. Carlson returned Tuesday from his trip to Erie in the interest of good road through the Port Allegany Association. Mr. Carlson reports that he conferred with the District Manager F. E. Winters, and had a long talk with him regarding the Burtville road.

The return of Mr. Carlson necessitates the calling of another meeting of the association. This meeting will be held on Monday evening at 8 o'clock in Harrison hall. As the meeting will be very important President Seltz requests all members of the organization to be present.

TWO INJURED IN MOTOR CYCLE ACCIDENT AT OLEAN

Olean, April 8.—J. Henry Crawford, said to be about 55 years of age, North Union street, a plasterer and bricklayer, is lying in a critical condition at the Higgins Memorial Hospital with doubt of his recovery and his companion, John Koon, 57 years, of the same address, is in the same institution with a broken right wrist and bursted blood vessel in his right knee, as a result of a motorcycle accident which occurred in Front street, near School, last night. Crawford was driving the machine and Koon was a side-car passenger. The police say that the driver had been drinking.

Accounts of the accident vary as to whether Crawford's machine had first skidded into the curb and the machine then glanced off the rear of a Ford coupe driven by Erutus Willard, of Allegany, or whether the motorcycle, of which he had lost control, first struck the car and then skidded into the curb.

Willard immediately went to a police station and made a report of his version of the accident, it being that the motorcycle struck the curb and then hit his car.

The Man in the Moon.

Observations made from August, 1920, to February, 1921, by Prof. William Henry Pickering of Harvard, who is one of the world's leading astronomers and an authority on lunar and Martian phenomena, tend, he asserts, to prove beyond doubt that life exists on the surface of the moon. The professor bases his assertions on a series of telescopic photographs of a crater with a circumference of 37 miles. Hundreds of photographic reproductions have, it is stated, proved irrefutably the springing up at dawn, with an unbelievable rapidity, of vast fields of foliage, which come into full blossom just as rapidly, and which disappear in a maximum period of 11 days. The plates also show that great blizzards, snowstorms and volcanic eruptions are frequent. "We find," says the professor, "a living world at our very doors where life in some respects resembles that of Mars—a world which the astronomical profession has in past years utterly neglected and ignored."

Ship Has 18,000 Spoons.

We may be cutting down our war ships. There is no reduction in our liners. This applies to size as well as to number.

Take the White Star liner Majestic. The largest steamer in the world is aptly named! Its tonnage is 56,000 and it is to carry 14,000 knives, 10,000 forks 18,000 spoons, 40,000 pieces of plate in all. 178,000 pieces of linen and 270,000 pieces of crystal and glassware.

When one adds it cargo, crew and passengers, one's brain almost staggers at the responsibility which will rest on the shoulders of the captain. —London Answers.

Shoved Off.

The Chasseurs Alpins, those classy French fighting men who helped train the marines who first went to France, could never quite get accustomed to some of the marine corps lingo. One of the Blue Devils had learned the meaning of the sea-going phrase "shove off," but when he had his first chance to use it he was—as the say is—not there.

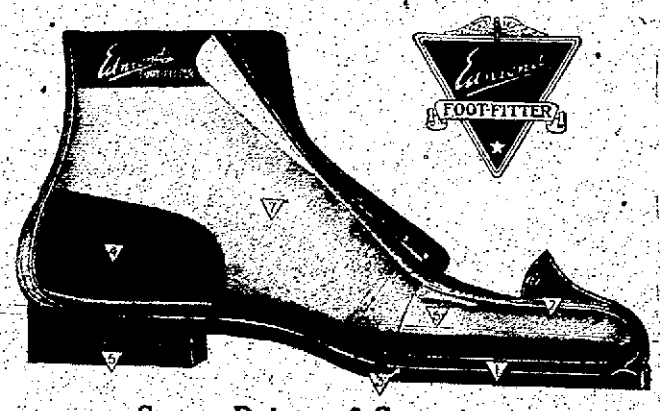
"Hey, French," said a Leatherneck, "have you seen our lieutenant around?"

"Oui, monsieur, oui," said the poilu, struggling to remember the elusive phrase, "he have—what you call—pushed over." The Leatherneck.

Roman Relics in London.

An old Roman building dating back to the Third or Fourth century was uncovered by workmen in Grace Church street, London, while laying postal cables. One wall four and a half feet thick and extending downward 13 feet appears to form part of an upper chamber of a Roman building. The outline of the chamber is apparent and there are painted ornamentations on the walls. Museum officials believe that the walls belong to the original forum of Roman London.

"FOOT-FITTERS"



Seven Points of Supremacy

1. The sole leather used in "FOOT-FITTERS" is of the best quality obtainable. Even the insoles are cut from standard outsole leather.

2. "FOOT-FITTERS" are the only shoes in the world having full length vamps and sole leather box toes. This feature prevents ripping at the tip and makes a smooth outer and inner surface.

3. The insoles are shoulder channelled so that they fit tightly against the outsole. There is no need or room for a cork filler. A small piece of duck is used to prevent squeaking.

4. The Calfskin inside counter pocket is of great value, for it saves the wear on the socks. There is no rough surface to rub against.

5. "FOOT-FITTER" heels are ¼-inch longer than generally used. They give additional support to the arch and increase the comfort and wear of the shoe.

6. The vamp is reenforced with 8-oz. duck. This absorbs the moisture from the foot, this keeps the vamp from cracking and holds the shoe in shape.

7. Edmonds' "FOOT-FITTER" shoes are called "FOOT-FITTERS" because they fit the foot snugly. Built on combination lasts they support the foot like a doctor's bandage.—"FOOT-FITTERS" give Comfort, Service and Appearance.

Can You Buy A Better Shoe At Any Price?

"FOOT-FITTERS" are the only mens shoes which have all of these features. If any other store claims a similarly made shoe, make them prove it by cutting a shoe in two so that you can see what is beneath the polished surface.

We guarantee "FOOT-FITTERS" to be made of solid leather all through. No paper fiber or substitutes are used.

We have been appointed EXCLUSIVE AGENTS for these wonderful shoes.

You can see a cut open "FOOT-FITTER" in our store. Come in and let us show you dollar for dollar value in a shoe.

THE DEATH OF WILBUR ACRE.

Contributed by Mrs. C. Parker.

Entered into rest Tuesday, April 4, 1922, Wilbur Acre, of Keating Township.

Mr. Acre came of pioneer stock as his father settled on the farm where the deceased spent his entire life, when this part of the township was an unbroken forest. The deceased was a man of decided opinion, but charitable and kind, and blesssed with a forgiving disposition. He was always ready to aid a friend in need.

He was married to Jeanette Howard of Corry, Pa., on November 12, 1871, who died about six months ago.

"Do not tell us that ours loved ones
Lose their earthly memories quite.
When they soar among the angels
In their Heavenly mansions bright.
For I know that we shall know them;
Tho, the Heavenly robes they wear
We shall know those gone before us
Shall know our loved ones there."

GET YOUR FISHING LICENSES READY FOR APRIL FIFTEENTH

The trout season opens on April 15—Saturday.

The Department of Fisheries would call upon all fishermen interested in the conservation of fish, and the work which the department is doing, to take out their fishing licenses now.

The law has been widely advertised since the first of January in all ways, and the department intends to enforce it to the letter. The season for trout opening on the 15th, will see many of the department's officers working in all the counties for several weeks, as will also sixty details of State Police and the services of the State Game Protectors.

All streams will be watched by such men.

Licenses can be secured here at the office of County Treasurer McCann in the Court House, or from the Harrisburg office of the Department of Fisheries. The law provides that all citizens of the State, male or female, over twenty-one must take out a license to fish in all waters of the Commonwealth.

Get a license or get arrested.

NOTICE.

Notice is hereby given that the undersigned will present to the Orphans' Court of McKean County on Thursday, April 20th, 1922, at two o'clock P. "Revival" Along the East Coast of England Is Most Remarkable of Recent Years.

A religious "revival" has commenced among the fisher people on the east coast, from Grimsby to John o' Groats, says the Manchester Guardian. It is difficult to say where the revival originated, but its effects are most noticeable in the villages on the south of the Moray Firth and the Aberdeenshire coast north of Aberdeen. Observers say the revival is much more extensive than that felt in Wales in 1904-5 by Evan Roberts. Prayer meetings, lasting many hours, are held nightly, the mission halls generally being full. The kinemas and public houses are in consequence nearly empty, and some of the former have had to close down. Strangers and fellow villagers are systematically stopped in the streets and asked if they have been saved. Even motorists in some villages are held up by the more fervent. One serious aspect of the revival is its effect on the minds of the people. Already six persons, mostly young men and women, have been removed to hospitals and institutions for the insane, and in the event of the revival continuing much longer this number may, it is feared, swell.

Term "Cabaret" Is Old.

"Cabaret" has come to be regarded as a recent addition to the English language—a word which, from its form and pronunciation, is evidently French.

As a matter of fact, the term was originally of Gallic origin, but it is by no means modern, having been widely used in England during the Sixteenth century as a synonym for tavern. There was nothing musical about the cabarets of this period, and the only amusement they afforded was that which the travelers furnished.

While used by Bradshaw in one of his works published in 1655, it passed out of the language soon after that time and did not return until about the middle of the Eighteenth century. At this time, however, its stay was brief, and its popularity limited and, not until the dancing craze struck the world a few years ago, was it resurrected in its present sense.

"HELLO" BARRED IN BOSTON

According to Superintendent of Schools Burke the Word Is Both Undignified and Slovenly.

Do not say "Hello" when you pick up the telephone.

Avoid "Nope" and "Yep" in your conversation when you mean "No" or "Yes."

If Boston is going to sustain its reputation as the Athens of America, it must quit the use of these barbarisms, according to Jeremiah E. Burke, new superintendent of Boston schools.

It is more in accordance with Boston culture to say something like "This is Mr. Smith talking; with whom am I conversing?"

"There are many words," Superintendent Burke says, "which may be used in place of that moth-eaten, undignified and impolite word 'Hello.' Its use is condemned in Boston schools, particularly in classes in salesmanship where knowledge of dignified and grammatical English is essential.

"There is no excuse for the use of 'Nope' and 'Yep' in conversation. I believe that if Boston school children will check themselves in their use, parents at home will gradually dispense with their use.

"My advice to the children in Boston schools is:

"Don't be slovenly in the use of English. Slovenliness is the result of habit, and once tolerated, it is likely to cling to all of us until mature life."—Boston American.

ETIQUETTE THAT SEEMS ODD

Table manners at the time of Chaucer were described in a lecture by Kenneth Hare, author and poet, on "A Holiday in London in the Days of Chaucer." Etiquette in those days (the latter half of the Fourteenth century) demanded that meat should be held between two fingers and a thumb of the left hand, and no more, if one was to be received in polite society. After soup, pike roasted in claret and flavored with strange and varied spices was eaten. Then followed partridge roasted with saffron, cloves and ginger, and fam tarts and jelly.
